ManpowerGroup Unveils Infographics of U.S. President and U.S. Vice President Job Descriptions

November 1, 2012

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 1, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- As Election Day draws near, ManpowerGroup unveils infographics of the job descriptions for the U.S. president and U.S. vice president, detailing the salary, benefits, responsibilities and skills desired for the world's two most renowned temporary positions. The temporary natures of the positions are outlined in the U.S. Constitution, which states that a president and vice president are elected for an initial four-year term and limited to two four-year terms.

"These infographics help us understand the requirements of the most high profile temporary positions in the world — the president and vice president of the United States," said Julie Cole, ManpowerGroup vice president of marketing for North America. "The U.S. presidential campaign can be viewed as a lengthy interview with the American people selecting who gets the top two jobs with their votes. Nearly every job comes with a job description, and the roles of the president and vice president are no exception."
