Item 5. Other Events.

On July 6, 1998, Manpower Inc. (the "Company") announced the resignation of Jon F. Chait, the Company's Managing Director-International Operations and Chief Financial Officer. He resigned from his position as a Director of the Company and from all positions as an officer of the Company and as a director and/or officer of each subsidiary and affiliate of the Company. Mr. Chait resigned in connection with a reorganization of the Company's management structure. In connection with his resignation, Mr. Chait became entitled to certain payments and benefits pursuant to his employment agreement (as further described in the Company's Proxy Statement dated April 23, 1998 and incorporated by reference herein). In addition, the Company has agreed to extend the exercise period of outstanding vested Company options held by Mr. Chait for a period of up to one year beyond an initial exercise period of six months to which Mr. Chait was already entitled, subject to Mr. Chait not working for any of the Company's competitors during such period. In connection with the Company's management reorganization, several individuals have been named to new positions including: Terry A. Hueneke, the Executive Vice President and a Director of the Company, who will be responsible for North American, South American and Pacific Rim Operations; Jeffrey Joerres, Vice President - Marketing and Major Account Development, who has been named to the additional position of Senior Vice President - European Operations and will be responsible for all European operations except France; and Michael J. Van Handel, the Company's Chief Accounting Officer, who has been named Chief Financial Officer. The Company's Press Release issued July 6, 1998 is attached as an exhibit to this report and is incorporated herein by reference.

MANPOWER INC.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JULY 6, 1998

Milwaukee, Wisconsin -- Manpower Inc. (NYSE:MAN) announced today a reorganization of its senior management structure designed to shorten the lines of communication and reporting between its country managers and its Global Headquarters.

The Company simultaneously announced the resignation of Jon F. Chait who is presently serving as Chairman of Manpower's European and Asian Operations and Chief Financial Officer.

Manpower's Chief Executive Officer, Mitchell S. Fromstein, said the reorganization moves would also improve the flow and reduce the aggregate costs of shared support services on a global scale.

"We have reached the point in our growth where the sharing of information, knowledge and experience between our 48 country operations has become a most valuable competitive edge," Fromstein said. "The changes we are making will maximize this advantage.

"Jon Chait has served Manpower well over his nine year tenure both as Chief Financial Officer and in directing the expansion of our operations in Europe and Southeast Asia. He was offered a senior position in the reorganized structure, but felt that it was inconsistent with his own career objectives.

"Our new structure will give Manpower France a more direct relationship with our Headquarters Group recognizing that its size and market position warrants a more intensive interaction with U.S. Management on common issues. We have a very strong, experienced and successful management team in place in France where the pace of current growth continues to lead the industry.

"All other European operations will be placed under the leadership of Jeffrey Joerres who has served since 1993 as Vice President of U.S. Marketing and Director of Global Account Management and Development."

Joerres, 39, will become Senior Vice President of European Operations and will continue as Director of Global Account Management and Development.

Fromstein said that all North American, South American and Pacific Rim Operations will be placed under the leadership of Mr. Terry Hueneke, Executive Vice President of Manpower and a member of its Board of Directors. Hueneke, 56, joined Manpower in 1974 and has headed Manpower's U.S. Operations since 1990.

"This realignment will provide strong, experienced support to our Country Managers who are individually and as a group the best in the business," Fromstein said. "Our objective is to maintain our leadership role in the staffing industry and, simultaneously, to bring our operating margin back to a traditional level. I believe we will show significant progress toward that goal in the months ahead."

Fromstein said that Michael Van Handel, Manpower's Vice President, Treasurer and Chief Accounting Officer, has been appointed as Acting Chief Financial Officer.
